Neurons

- Major parts of neurons are cell body, dendrites and axon. These transmit impulse towards cell body.
- Each dendrite terminates as bulb like structure called synapse (left) which pass nerve impulses.
- There are two types of axon - Myelinated and Non Myelinated and covered with Schwann cell.

Nerve

Ear

- The nose collects the smell from the surroundings and sends it to the brain through olfactory bulb.
- The finger is able to detect the objects to respond to the smell.

Coordination

- Spinal Cord: Carries messages between the brain and the rest of the body.
- Autonomic nervous system: Controls involuntary actions like heart rate, breathing, and digestion.

Skin

Advancement in Bio-Technology

1. Gene Engineering
Using recombinant DNA technology to create new genetic combinations. Applications include insulin production, gene therapy, and transgenic organisms.

2. Tissue Engineering
Combining cells, biomaterials, and growth factors to create functional tissue substitutes for transplantation. Applications include skin grafts, bone grafts, and heart tissue engineering.

3. Stem Cell Therapy
Using undifferentiated stem cells to regenerate damaged tissues. Applications include treating leukemia, Parkinson's disease, and spinal cord injuries.

4. Gene Therapy
Introducing normal genes into a patient's cells to replace defective ones. Applications include treating severe combined immunodeficiency (SCID) and hemophilia.

5. CRISPR-Cas9
A powerful gene editing tool that allows for precise modifications to the genome. Applications include curing genetic diseases, improving crop yields, and creating model organisms.
